

Preview of: "Under Pressure"

WASHINGTON:

This isn't fair
This loss is too much to bear
I am forced to breathe while my heart tears
I'm trying to face the unknown
I just can't do this alone
This emptiness as heavy as stone.
When all this pressure settles;
the shadows of metal
are caving in
I'll never win
I'll never win

CHORUS: (WASHINGTON only)

Disgracing you
I'll never do
I will be true
true to you
Lament and pain
i'll never be the same
In this difficult game
Honor your name

EMILY:

I want to make it clear
You're not alone, my dear
You can do this, you hear?
His name lives on
He's not truly gone
But please understand
The bridge must move along.
